1. During late May and early June 1951, re-inforcements were sent to the Yugoslav-Hungarian border area. These troops were observed arriving at Valpovo, Cadavica, Donji Miholjac, Beli Manastir, Bezdan and Kalinovac. The reason for the strengthening of the border garrisons was reportedly the frequency of border incidents. The re-inforcing troop units came from the large military camp in Osijek the complement of which has been depleted by 75 percent as a result.
2. According to source, the entire border strip on the Yugoslav side of the Drava River has been secured for all persons except those possessing special passes.
